Jarman Brothers' Kverneland Triple Mower Upgrade

When you are running a tight multi-silage system, timing is everything. To hit their goal of mowing on Day 1 for a 24-hour wilt before a Day 2 forager pickup, David Jarman and brother Martin needed a machine that could cut serious ground fast.

We caught up with them to see how their Kverneland triple butterfly mower—supplied and supported by Paxtons — is keeping their harvest cycle running like clockwork. Here is what they had to say:

What led you to choose the Kverneland triple butterfly mower for your operation?
We have run Kverneland mowers for 9 years without any major issues and have found them easy to maintain and service. We wanted to change the mowers and step up to the butterfly setup to allow us to cut the maximum amount in a 12-hour window.

How does the mower handle tricky ground contours and uneven fields?
The mower follows the ground fantastically. It's really easy to set up the ground pressure through the pressure gauge and tractor spools.

How has the Non-Stop BreakBack and general ease of use performed for you?
The Non-Stop BreakBack hasn't had to spring into action so far! The mowers are very easy to connect and use, and the electric control box is great because it keeps the number of tractor spools required to a minimum.

How has your experience been with Paxtons throughout the purchase and setup?
The experience with Paxtons has been excellent throughout. It started when we spoke with Andrew in 2024, followed by having a set on demo in 2025, and placing our order shortly afterwards. That included brilliant aftersales support getting us set up and mowing away!

What kind of results have you seen in the field with the new setup?
In the past, we have mowed and tedded, but it was a great last-minute decision to add the spreader hoods.
It has saved us a tractor man and an extra pass, helping us achieve our optimum dry matter of 30% to 34%.

On our multicut system, we are averaging 20 acres per hour and using 1.3 litres of diesel per acre, which is a massive improvement from our old front-and-back combo and tedder setup. For anyone considering changing their mowers, I would seriously recommend them — it's saving us time, labour, and fuel, which must be three of the larger overheads in farming.

A Little Bit About David & Martin

If your Kverneland triple mower had a personality or a nickname out in the field, what would it be?

If our mowers had a nickname, they would be "The A-Team" — to go with the driver's nickname, "Mad Murdock"!

What is your ultimate go-to snack or drink that keeps you going during those long, late-night shifts in the tractor cab?
A latte or frappuccino with a Portuguese tart.

If you could instantly swap your tractor seat for any other vehicle in the world for just one day, what would it be?
A speedboat!
